From Caravaggio to Rembrandt, Van Gogh to Raphael, Leonardo to Gauguin: the most beautiful chapters in the history of art, in a series of thirty precious volumes to read, browse, admire and collect. The series offers readers an extraordinary voyage in the company of great artists, presented in a clear, direct way, describing their great talents and everyday foibles. The splendid images of all the main works by each artist enrich the volumes and combine in an "ideal museum" containing all the masterpieces of art history. The very up-to-date, rigorous selection of images reflects even the most recent results of restorations, as well as surprising critical discoveries. Each book also includes a biography of the artist and a fine selection of works, all with clear commentary in useful profiles. The images are accompanied by a complete, innovative collection of documentary information, anecdotes, curiosities, eyewitness accounts and technical secrets, to also illustrate the human side of genius. The critical apparatus for reference (chronology, anthology of critical writings, bibliography) make this series an indispensable, up-to-date source of information and enjoyment for the whole family.

In 160 pages, the fascinating personalities and secrets of the historic protagonists of art...

The reader discovers a wide range of human, technical and historical facets of the world's greatest artists, for a fresh look at the beauty of their works and a close glimpse at their everyday lives: from the most "maudits" to the most complacent, the books gradually unveil the secret threads of passions, the love of art, the desire for communication and expression, the ability to capture and represent the deepest sentiments of human existence.
