Following the great success of the series Art Dictionaries, both in Italy and abroad, Electa now presents a new series of Dictionaries dedicated to the ancient civilizations. It is a completely new approach to the study of the ancient world, conducted through the analysis of the figurative records our ancestors committed to future generations in the shape of paintings, statues, relieves, Archaeological sites, monuments, works of art, and even simple tools are accurately examined in order to comprehend the lifestyle of ancient populations: their daily life, their culture, their religious beliefs and relation with the underworld and more specific themes. Complete the volumes a chronology, a glossary and useful, easy to consult guide to the main museums and public collections world-wide

The winning concept of the Art Dictionaries finds a new application.

A new approach to ancient civilisations, uniting archaeology, material culture and history.

Unique in the completeness of their documentation and rich array of illustrations.
